MKNEWS

MK's FAVOURITE and Britain's BEST - voted 'BEST FREE NEWSPAPER IN THE UK' by the Newspaper Society

Your normal MKNEWS is inside.

We wouldn't normally use our front page for anything other than award winning local news, but our competitors have recently made unsubstantiated claims about their distribution and readership figures and we feel that we should set the record straight using facts:

ALWAYS ONE STEP AHEAD OF OUR NEAREST COMPETITORS...

A message from
Jonathan Cropley
Publishing Director – LSN Media Ltd, Publishers of the MKNews.

The MKNews is widely acknowledged to be MK's favourite local newspaper, and I'm proud that the latest official readership figures from the Newspaper Society back this up by showing that the MKNews had an average of 2,300 more adults reading each week for the first four months of this year than the Citizen. However, we'd like to think that we'll never rest on our laurels so to ensure we stay ahead of our competitors we're increasing our distribution to a massive 110,000 copies from today. This is an increase of 17,000 copies on our current distribution, and is also at least 5000 more copies than the Citizen has recently claimed to deliver to.

I'd like to welcome our new readers across MK this week, and thank our current readers and advertisers for helping us to stay one step ahead of the rest!

Jonathan Cropley

Why place your next advertisement in the MKNews?

- Local newspapers are the most widely used source of local information and advertising in the UK, and the MKNews has more readers and delivers more copies than any other local newspaper in MK.
- We're the only local newspaper to print on premium quality "whiter" paper and to staple every copy.
- We were the first local newspaper to hand copies to commuters at MK railway station every week and continue to do this from 6-30am every Wednesday morning.
- We aim to carry more local news in an easier to read format than anyone else.
- Our advertisers tell us that they get an excellent response because people in MK read all, or most of our newspaper each week (unlike our competitors!)

Weekly readership figures mentioned above are the official, up to date Newspaper Society/JICREG figures of 130,591 for MKNews compared to 128,202 for the MK Citizen as at April 2010.
Current distributions listed above are publisher's statements. Current ABC figures for July-Dec 2009 are MK News 72,911 and LB News 6,638.

Meet the mayor

THE city has a Conservative-Liberal Democrat coalition of its own – in its mayoral set-up at least.

Mirroring national politics, Conservative councillor Debbie Brock took up the mayoral chains with Lib Dem Alan Richards as her number two.

They were sworn in last night among fellow councillors at a ceremonial meeting in the Civic Offices.

The mayor's chosen charities are Bletchley Park and Willen Hospice.

She said: "I'm completely honoured, overwhelmed and excited about the year ahead. My charities are local charities which do huge amounts of good and also project and amazing image of Milton Keynes to the rest of the world."

Outgoing mayor Euan Henderson was there for the handover.

He was celebrated raising at least £22,000 for Great-Linford based Hope Outreach UK, the charity which is building a welfare home in Sri Lanka for the orphans of the country's civil war and 2004 tsunami.

Five refuse workers test positive for cannabis use

BY JESSICA CUNNIFFE

jessica.cunniffe@mk-news.co.uk

FIVE city refuse workers have tested positive for cannabis use.

As MK NEWS revealed in March, several workers were suspended for alleged use of banned substances.

An investigation has since shown that five had been using the drug – three of the five are still working for Serco, the council's waste contractor, which says it has a 'zero tolerance approach' to the use of drugs.

These staff have 'undergone strict risk assessments', meaning they can still carry out the services they are employed to do.

They have since tested negative for the Class B substance but will be subject to future random tests.

Two of the five no longer work for the company, though Serco says it will not say whether they quit or were fired.

On Monday Adam Fergie, communications director for Serco Local Government, said: "It's not appropriate to talk about individuals. We didn't say that they were taken on the job or not. If you look into the way random drugs testing is done, different materials stay in the blood stream for different time periods. This could have been going on for years or days."

Previously he told MK NEWS that it was an investigation into the employees' 'usage' of drugs, 'not one particular incident'.

The workers were from the environmental services department.

The FTSE 100 public services outsourcing company has been used by Milton Keynes Council since April 2009.

The Serco statement said: 'Serco can confirm that five members of staff recently tested positive for cannabis and were immediately suspended from duty, pending further investigation.

'Following the investigation, three of the five have since tested negative, whilst the other two are no longer employed by Serco.

'The three who remain employed, have undergone strict risk assessments and may be subject to further tests, in line with the contract's random testing policy.

A spokesman for Thames Valley Police said: "We went down there, we've spoken to them and we're aware of the outcome of their investigation. There's no criminal investigation taking place, it's being dealt with internally."

New leader after council shake-up

BY JESSICA CUNNIFFE
jessica.cunniffe@mk-news.co.uk

A CABINET shake-up has left Milton Keynes Council with a new leader.

Cec Tallack takes over at the helm of the Liberal Democrats and, as it is the largest group, is set to be made council leader next Tuesday.

On Monday night the leadership and seven portfolios were doled out among the group.

Opposition councillors have argued Cllr Tallack's appointment is a 'step backwards' for consensual politics.

However, he insists that he will carry on the cross-party work of his predecessor, Sam Crooks.

Despite what Cllr Crooks calls 'tensions in the group', former leader Isobel McCall's appointment as party chairman 'brings the two sides back together'.

Rosemary Drewett makes a return to the front benches as cabinet member for children's services.

Chris Williams retains housing and takes on community safety, while Vanessa McPake will tackle transport.

Jenni Ferrans stays with regeneration and adds expansion to her remit while Mike Galloway keeps environment and planning.

Sam Crooks will return to his finance remit and Sam Potts makes his cabinet debut taking on adult social care.

The Lib Dems celebrated taking three seats from the Conservatives in this month's local election.

However, last week Phil Gerrella and Mike Barry resigned the party whip and will now sit as independents, citing personal reasons for their departure.

Cllr Tallack said: "I'm very pleased. It's a huge challenge but we are a party on the up in Milton Keynes – we made three gains at the elections and we've had some successful times leading the council for the last eight years.

"There have been tensions in the past but those are now healed. In Milton Keynes we are a united party. We would like to work with both the other groups. I believe the public want us to work together."

Huge challenge: New council leader Cec tallack

Conservative leader, Cllr Andrew Geary, said: "If they wanted to continue consensus politics they would have elected a consensus leader. This is a step backwards for the council. The Lib Dems have chosen their own political fortunes and taken the people of the city off their radar – putting their own internal agendas before the people of Milton Keynes."

Cllr Crooks said of his time as leader: "I hope the council has gained from taking back it's position as the civic leader. It's very important that on things like the World Cup bid and city status we should begin to feel we've achieved that."

MK Hospital boss quits

Resigned: Hospital boss Jill Rodney

THE chief executive of Milton Keynes Hospital has resigned.

After nine years in the post, Jill Rodney is to step down.

During her time she led the hospital to foundation status but her tenure was also dogged by continued criticisms of the hospital's maternity unit.

The Care Quality Commission refused to register the hospital unless it made dramatic changes to the unit.

The coroner criticised systems and staffing following the deaths of two babies, Romy Feast and Ebony McCall.

Ms Rodney will be replaced temporarily by Mark Millar, who takes on the role of interim chief executive.

Dr Walter Greaves, chairman of Milton Keynes Hospital NHS Foundation Trust, said: "Jill Rodney has written to me indicating her wish to resign from her post as chief executive and it is with reluctance that I have accepted her resignation.

"I enjoyed working with Jill and would like to thank her for her efforts and hard work during her tenure, which included taking the hospital into a foundation trust."

Mr Millar stepped down at the end of April as chief executive of Hinchingbrooke Health Care NHS Trust, a position he had held for the last three years on a seconded basis from NHS East of England.

He will join the Milton Keynes trust on June 1, before which Bob Heavisides, the current director of facilities, will become acting chief executive.

The trust will now begin the recruitment process to appoint a chief executive.

Older Person's Forum chairman Peter Ballantyne reckons the bus service in the city is 'chaotic and disastrous'

OAPs' anger over bus route changes

BY JESSICA CUNNIFFE
jessica.cunniffe@mk-news.co.uk

A PROTEST meeting is to take place against changes in city bus services.

Organisers of the June 11 event intend to galvanise people affected by the schedule changes introduced by bus operator Arriva on April 25.

The meeting has been arranged by the Older Person's Forum (OPF) – an initiative by Milton Keynes Pensioners' Association and Senior Voice and is supported by Age UK.

The groups say they are taking several calls a day on the issue, while some councillors have received more than 100 complaints.

The OPF has compiled a list of services that have been withdrawn and replaced in part.

Campaigners insist single journeys now involve two changes and some routes miss out vital stops such as doctors' surgeries.

OPF Chairman Peter Ballantyne has received around 70 letters and 30 calls from angry users.

He said: "It is chaotic and disastrous. Looking at the map at the changes we feel like screaming. They have not asked the people who use the buses what they want. What everybody's saying is we would've like to have been consulted. Why are they so surprised this has gone wrong? They've not listened to anybody. They've just done it."

Bus operator Arriva says the council was advised of the all the planned changes.

Jane Palmer, chief executive of the local branch of Age UK, said: "It's absolutely crazy. It's just gone the wrong way.

"They could've taken time to talk to people who actually use the buses."

Cllr Chris Williams, who represents Furzton ward, says more than 100 people have contacted him about the reduction in services in South Furzton and Shenley Lodge.

He said: "I am dismayed. I don't understand the thinking. I welcomed Arriva with open arms but bit by bit my pleasure in their services has been eroded."

An Arriva spokesman said: "MK Council was advised of all the planned changes and following feedback some changes were made at the council's request.

"There have been no major changes to bus services in Milton Keynes for a number of years. In that time the city has grown rapidly and the services needed to be changed to reflect the current journey patterns. With the further expansion and growth planned for the city in the next few years it was important to plan out a network that could accommodate the needs of the people living and working in the city.

"On the back of the review of our commercial services, the council also took the opportunity to review the bus services operated under contract by Arriva and other operators."

The meeting takes place on June 11, 2-4pm in the Guildhall, Christ the Cornerstone Church, Central Milton Keynes.

Cops connecting spate of village car torchings

A SUCCESSION of car arsons in New Bradwell are believed to be linked.

Police have released CCTV images of three people they are hoping to speak to in relation to the incidents, which happened in April and May.

The most recent two incidents happened on May 15 at around 3am when a white Renault Trafic was set on fire in Harwood Street, New Bradwell and a blue Peugeot 307 was torched in Church Street.

They are believed to be connected to the arsons carried out on Saturday 17 April, where seven vehicles were set on fire, also in New Bradwell.

CCTV images of people police want to speak to about car arsons

The man pictured is white, 5ft 10ins and he was wearing black jogging bottoms, a black jacket, black and white trainers, a red baseball cap and he was possibly carrying a black rucksack.

The three people pictured include the first man pictured, another person who was wearing camouflage-style khaki, three quarter length shorts; a black hooded top and black shoes and the third person is believed to be a young child, dressed in all black with a white terrier dog.

Anyone with information is urged to contact PC Sam Lake at Milton Keynes police station on 0845 8 505 505 or Crimestoppers anonymously on 0800 555 111.

MK LETTERS

Letters to The Editor, MK NEWS, 1 Diamond Court, Fox Milne, Milton Keynes MK15 0DU | letters@mk-news.co.uk

Neighbours help grow a waste mountain

SIR – We as a family agree with the letter published regarding rubbish collection, we too suffer from neighbours adding their bags to ours at the end of our drive.

We live in a row of town houses backing onto another row.

We leave the bags all correctly sorted with the correct recycling in each bag , glass in a glass bin and compostable waste in the composting bin.

However others in our row and the row opposite are not as concerned with recycling and also tend to add their bags to the impressive pile that we as a family leave out.

We often have three to four black bags, five-plus pink sacks and the glass and compost.

Others leave their bags on our pile and due to not placing food waste in a compost bin the local cats tear our bags leaving a mess on our drive for me to clean up in the process besides food waste not being separated.

I have noticed glass, paper and tins amongst the black bag rubbish.

The council lottery of visiting and checking waste is flawed and due to others lack of care we won't be in the running either despite being very careful and conscientious regarding recycling.

Perhaps we should write our house number on our waste sacks?

More please

SIR – Re the council election results.

Congratulations to the Liberal Democrats.

I hope they will do more this time to give MK a better look by doing a better job on landscaping around the city and modernising a number of facilities such as the bus stops and a number of steel demarcations around the city centre.

Chamber excess

SIR – I read the report in last week's MK NEWS (Business – Towcester Races) and wondered if the Chamber of Commerce are living on cloud nine.

I think talk of sumptuous meals and free-flowing wine will not have gone down too well with the ever-lengthening dole queue at the Jobcentre where this sort of thing remains a distant dream.

I thought the whole idea was to bring more work here, not organising glorified booze-ups.

I suppose they will be telling us next that some of their clients have got it so tough they might have to consider flogging the Bentley.
Clifford Rose
Great Linford

People in cul-de-sacs are on a rubbish loser

SIR – I write with reference to the letter printed in MK NEWS (May 12 2010) with regards to winning the £100 prize for putting your recycling sacks out correctly.

I live in a cul-de-sac and if I was to put all of my rubbish, pink sacks and wheelie bin out on my property boundarys like your reader suggests in order to try to win this prize, I would be blocking two of my neighbours on either side of my detached property.

I do have my own boundary and private driveway, but in order to get to my driveway I have to first go down a shared driveway which belongs in total to three houses.

Therefore if I was to do what your reader suggests I would be blocking their access also, which is why the whole cul-de-sac has no choice but to pile all the rubbish, pink sacks and wheelie bins together in the same place (which is not on a footpath) in order for them to be collected and the wheelie bins emptied.

I did originally try to keep mine as close to my property as possible without causing an obstruction, only for the bin men to ignore them as they couldn't be bothered to walk round the cul-de-sac and collect them from each house. Instead they took only what was placed together and ignored all the other houses in the streets, until a complaint had to be made to the refuse company about it.

So, unlike the reader who wrote in, we have no choice but to do this or it won't get collected, so we are still not in with a chance of winning anything!

Bring troops home

SIR – Any observer of the recent General Election will have been struck by the conspiracy of silence agreed by the three main political parties not to mention the war in Afghanistan.

With the death toll of British soldiers now up to 285 and thousands of innocent Afghan civilians also killed in this unwinnable and unjustified war, now is the time for our new Government to bring our troops home.

In the latest opinion polls, 69 per cent of the British public want our troops to be brought home from Afghanistan by Christmas.

We have squandered over £12 Billion on this war since 2001 with no tangible results. Another £4 Billion is to be spent this year.

With the new Government drawing up draconian plans to make massive cuts in our vital public services, this is money that is needed to maintain our health and education services.

So let's all write to our newly elected Milton Keynes MPs to demand that all British troops come home from Afghanistan now.
Dave Brunwin
Walton Park

A fair electoral fight

SIR – Now that the dust has settled from the election I wanted to write and thank everyone who was involved locally. The campaign locally was a clean fight and really showed off the best of what politics brings to a borough like ours.

I am very proud to come from Milton Keynes and it was a great privilege to seek to represent my home town.

I love Milton Keynes because of its vibrancy and 'can do' sense of achievement from helping to create the railways (I know before MK was a new town), as home to the Open University and through to the dynamic borough we have become today.

I would particularly like to thank everyone who took the time to speak to me on the doorstep, in your workplace, at community meetings or on the phone to discuss your issues and concerns.

I enjoyed every minute of being the Labour & Co-operative candidate for our area and while I did not succeed in being elected I want to thank all those who offered advice or supported me.

We face uncertain times ahead with different visions on offer about how best to recover from the recession and build a better future.

One thing that we can be sure of, however, is that locally we are able to debate and discuss these issues together.

Finally, I would like to formally congratulate Mark Lancaster on his victory and wish him every success for the future. He is very lucky to represent a constituency like Milton Keynes.
Andrew Pakes
Labour & Co-operative Parliamentary Candidate for Milton Keynes North

Missing votes fears

SIR – I am heartened to see that lessons will be learnt from the voting fiasco, as MK NEWS reported last week there will be an Electoral Commission review into the queues at Milton Keynes polling stations.

I was actually quite smug when I heard from friends that they had queued for up to an hour at a polling station in Wolverton. I cast my vote by post, so I thought all was well. But then I read that 200 postal votes ended up in Coventry. Had the returning officer not spotted them these would have been lost votes.

Whoever's fault it is, they need to sort this out. People fought for our right to vote, and to see it jeopardised by understaffing or mismanagement - or whatever the problem was - is simply wrong.

A MAN who maps Africa with a camera plane has made the Emberton wind farm his latest project.

Gary Mortimer, from Cold Brayfield, flies his camera-equipped model aeroplane to capture rare images.

The 42-year-old spends six months of the year living in South Africa, using the so-called YellowPlane to reach inaccessbile areas to take pictures, from crops to game reserves, fence patrols and even of a rare bird that lays eggs on a swamp.

But his current project is charting the evolving wind farm at Petsoe End, which will comprise seven turbines.

Although the farm has been controversial, sparking a protest group called Bucks Lacks Enough Wind (BLEW), he believes the 125m structures are attractive.

He said: "I saw the first turbines go up in Emberton - you can see them from my house. It's quite a pretty thing I thought. Some people like them, some people don't. It's just an interesting thing on the landscape."

His business was born when he was in the Masai Mara in 2005 and needed to take pictures over a river for a wildlife study.

Because it records data, his plane is classed as an unmanned aerial system and has to be registered with Civil Aviation Authority.

He and his business partner Mike Smith now take photos of everything from lions to broken guttering.

He added: "We are hoping to have an exhibition, and perhaps we will include the wind farm pictures."

For more details on the plane go to www.yellowplane.co.uk.

Man arrested after cops close city cannabis farm

A MAN has been arrested after police found a Westcroft home had been turned into a cannabis farm.

Police closed down the sophisticated set up in Berrington Close on May 13 after finding 126 cannabis plants with an estimated street value of £10,000.

A 33-year-old man from Bletchley was arrested on suspicion of drugs possession with intent to supply Class B drugs.

He has been released on police bail pending further investigation.

Detective Chief Inspector Justin Fletcher, said: "Any warrant where we are able to close down a set up like this and disrupt the supply of drugs in our community is a success. The house had been rented out and extensive damage has been caused to the inside of the property including the electrics. It has taken officers over a day to dismantle the set up and empty the property of all the plants and equipment.

"As always we need local residents to contact us if they have any suspicions about a property being used as a cannabis farm in their street.

"We rely on community intelligence for raids such as this and we need their help to stamp it out of the city all together."

Pride, awe and excitement for 'new boy' MP

THE city's new MP felt like 'the new boy at school' when he took his seat in Parliament.

But Iain Stewart, member for Milton Keynes South, was not the only one with first-day nerves as he joined 227 other new MPs.

Yesterday the Conservative made his House of Commons chamber debut when the speaker John Bercow was re-elected.

Today or tomorrow he will be formally sworn in.

He said: "It was a special moment. I felt a mixture of pride, awe, excitement, a whole range of emotions. The House was packed, it was standing room only but I got a seat early."

He is hot-desking in Westminster before offices are allocated and is making arrangements to share an office with Mark Lancaster, MP for Milton Keynes North, in the city.

Paul Rivers, who has run The Pitz music venue for 12 years, is leaving to set up his own company

MK's 'Mr Music' to play different tune

BY JESSICA CUNNIFFE
jessica.cunniffe@mk-news.co.uk

THE man who has built up the city's rock scene is set to retire.

Paul Rivers, who is synonymous with music in Milton Keynes, is leaving The Pitz after 12 years at the helm.

The 38-year-old has booked bands that have gone onto international stardom such as Reef, Gomez, Ash and Lost Prophets.

He also mentored local acts that have gone on to be signed by record labels, such as Fell Silent, Gravel Trap and Capdown.

But after working at the 500-person venue he is leaving to set up his own company.

He said: "Hundreds of bands have come through, and thousands of kids, but it's time to move on. I have looked out for a lot of musicians and chose to lean towards the community side of things, helping with the Rock School. I have helped build up the music scene for other people, but I am still going to work in music.

"The music scene here has died a bit of a death recently with older bands moving away from Milton Keynes, but there are a lot of great acts bubbling and in a year's time it will explode again."

Having grown up in Fullers Slade and played in bands himself, he was a 'Pitz kid' after it was set up in 1987.

He said the best moment in his Pitz career is selling out the venue with local acts.

"Other promoters couldn't believe that I was packing out shows with local acts and having to turn people away.

"I just want to thank everyone for the support I've had over the years."

The final gig he is putting on will be a Pearl Jam tribute band at the end of June, though a farewell concert might also be organised.

Benefit cheat midwife told to do 300 hours of unpaid work

A MIDWIFE who falsely claimed more than £18,000 in benefits has been ordered to do 300 hours unpaid work.

Zahra Daymekar, 31, from South Ninth Street, Central Milton Keynes, appeared before Milton Keynes Magistrates' Court on May 12 to be sentenced for making false statements and failing to report changes in her circumstances.

She had originally pleaded not guilty to seven counts relating to fraudulent claims for housing benefit, but was found guilty on April 21 and the court adjourned the hearing for sentencing.

She was sentenced to a 12-month Community Punishment Order – with a requirement to do 300 hours of unpaid work. She was also ordered to pay £1,000 costs.

The case arose from a data match as part of the National Fraud Initiative which indicated that Ms Daymekar had been in receipt of an NHS bursary but had not declared it when claiming housing benefit.

Information obtained from Buckinghamshire County Council also showed Ms Daymekar had been in receipt of student loans since 2006. She had also failed to report this.

A council benefit fraud spokesman said: "We believe this woman clearly knew that she should be declaring her extra income, but she failed to do so."

Salden Chase: Plans have been submitted for a 'county market town the size of Buckingham' to be built on the south west corner of MK. Newton Longville is off the picture at the bottom

New town unveiled

BY JESSICA CUNNIFFE

jessica.cunniffe@mk-news.co.uk

A CONTROVERSIAL application to build 5,000 homes on the edge of Milton Keynes has been submitted.

The outline planning document set out plans for a county market town the size of Buckingham, named Salden Chase, in the south west of Milton Keynes.

It is not Milton Keynes Council but Aylesbury Vale District Council that will decide on the development, which is set to take shape over the next 25-30 years.

Developer David Lock Associates hopes to build this 'sustainable urban extension' as well as a neighbourhood centre, potential for a new railway station on the East West railway line and an enterprise hub for local business.

A Save Our Villages protest group has already been set up by residents of Newton Longville, which adjoins the proposed development.

It argues that the area is unsuitable for further development in that it will increase traffic.

But the developers say a third of the area will be made up of parkland, sports facilities and play areas.

There will also be provision for four new primary schools and a secondary school and transport facilities including a pedestrian and cycle network.

A spokesman for the Save Our Villages Group said: "Many villagers have lived here for their whole lives and are frightened by the inevitable damage to their environment that it will cause. Change and development is a necessary way of life, but at this volume and in this position it can do nothing but harm, and will destroy people's lives forever."

DLA have submitted the application on behalf of the Salden Chase Consortium, namely Barwood Development Securities, Barwood LaSalle LLP, Bellcross Homes Ltd, Connolly Homes, Hallam Land Management Ltd, Taylor Wimpey PLC and William Davis Ltd.

■ Further information about the application at: www.saldenchase.co.uk

Notting Hill organisers bring magic to carnival

HEAVYWEIGHTS of the carnival world have come on board to make the city's biggest parade even bigger.

Organisers from the Notting Hill Carnival are hoping to inject more magic into the Celebr8mk march, set for August 29 in Central Milton Keynes.

Justin Nathaniel is a senior producer of the London carnival, organising it three years running, and Joe McHahon is head of the major incident team of paramedics at the world-famous annual event.

Both have joined with Celebr8 founder Gavin Anderson in the management team to help organise what is being billed as a chance to celebrate the diversity of the city.

Forty-two groups and 2,000 people have already registered interest in taking part in the parade, from pole fitness to Age Concern.

Mr Anderson said: "It's nice that these people want to get involved. People think we will get to that level. They see us as more than community people marching down the main street. They see it as building blocks for a major event.

"In fact, Justin has come to me with the vision of adding a full on carnival to the Celebr8mk parade in 2012.

"Meanwhile groups that have registered are getting in touch and saying we are so up for this, people just seem really fired up."

Gavin Anderson (centre back) with partners at the launch of Celebr8mk

He is aiming for a crowd of 10,000 participants and spectators at the event, which is supported by MK NEWS.

It coincides with Milton Keynes' bid for city status, which is due to get underway later in the year, and it successfully securing World Cup Host City status.

Licensed to thrill – Bond cars come up for auction

BY JESSICA CUNNIFFE
jessica.cunniffe@mk-news.co.uk

TWO of James Bond's cars are going under the hammer in Newport Pagnell.

A 1962 DB4 Aston Martin and 1976 Aston Martin V8 Coupe are for sale at the works service centre on May 22.

The first was used as a 'test mule' by James Bond special effects designers.

An ex-factory demonstrator, it was built for press tycoon Max Aitken and was a regular sight at Pinewood Studios where it was used during preparatory work for the first James Bond film, 'Goldfinger'.

It was measured for the various gadgets, including an ejector seat and machine guns, that would feature on the silver DB5 driven by Sean Connery as Bond in the film.

It is estimated it will fetch £40,000-50,000.

The V8 Coupe adapted with numerous components from the process unit used during the filming of the 007 epic 'The Living Daylights' is also estimated to fetch £40,000-60,000.

Several years ago Dr Peter Nelson, founder of 'The Bond Museum' in Keswick, visited Studio 10 at Pinewood Studios, the site used by the James Bond producers to store many of the old props.

Dr Nelson purchased several items from the store including the 'process unit', a V8 that had had the front and rear ends removed to enable the camera crew to film Timothy Dalton 'driving' the car in the studio.

Dr Nelson wanted to restore the vehicle, but found that the chassis was too badly damaged so instead he bought a 1976 model and transferred many of the process unit's components onto this running chassis.

Many fans consider 'The Living Daylights' Aston Martin V8 to be one of the best Bond vehicles with its skis, rockets, bullet-proof screen and even jet propulsion.

Tim Schofield, UK head of collectors motorcars department, said: "James Bond vehicles are rarely available for sale these days and James Bond Aston Martins are almost impossible to acquire at any price. This car incorporates many of the original 'Bond gadgets' from 'The Living Daylights' and is a must for any true 007 fan."

Bribery claims mar World Cup bid fest

BY SIMONE CORGAN
simone.corgan@mk-news.co.uk

ENGLAND'S 2018 World Cup bid descended into chaos just 48 hours after handing over their bid book to FIFA.

A Sunday newspaper published an article alleging Lord Triesman suggested Spain could drop its bid for 2018 if rival bidder Russia helped bribe referees at next month's World Cup.

Triesman was England 2018 and FA chairman at the time of making the comments and has since stepped down with Geoff Thompson appointed England 2018 chairman.

However, world governing body FIFA has written to the FA asking for a report on Triesman's comments and will now look into the bribery claims.

The incident has overshadowed the completion of England's bid to host the 2018 World Cup.

On Friday Triesman joined England midfielder David Beckham in Zurich to hand over a 1,752-page bid book.

As Beckham presented the complete book to FIFA president Sepp Blatter, Milton Keynes received its very own copy of the book.

All the members of the England 2018 bid team, including chairman Dr Ann Limb and MK Dons' chairman Pete Winkelman, were at stadiummk to take delivery of the document.

MK's World Cup 2018 bid team receives its bid book from security men

FIFA now hold the copyright to the information in England's bid book where transport, infrastructure, fan fests and accommodation are explored in more detail.

Speaking about the changes to the England 2018 bid team Dr Limb said: "England's bid team kept us up to date on the news over the weekend. They immediately apologised to FIFA and to the other bid teams concerned for these remarks.

"By doing this, and by appointing Geoff Thompson as new chairman, we are showing FIFA and the world that we wish take swift action and then move on.

"England's bid is still an excellent one, and it's clear the public remain very supportive of it. It's important we concentrate on the rest of the campaign, and on the massive social and commercial benefits of holding a World Cup in England."

Cops seek witnesses to robbery

POLICE are looking for two people who might have seen a teenager being robbed in Fenny Stratford.

The incident happened on May 11 at about 12.20pm in Church Street as the 19-year-old woman was walking towards Aylesbury Street.

As she reached the turning to Durrans Court, she was grabbed by a man who said 'this is a robbery, give me your stuff'.

As the victim was being held, she saw an old white van coming from the direction of Victoria Road.

There were two white men in the van and when they saw what was happening, they sounded the vehicle's horn, causing the offender to let go of the victim.

The victim also noticed a green Vauxhall Corsa travelling towards her, from Aylesbury Street, with a white female driver.

The victim walked off past the sandwich shop in Church Street.

The offender is black, 5ft 6ins tall and in his mid 20s to mid 30s. He had short, receding hair and was wearing an oversized, zipped-cream jumper with a hood. The right sleeve had black writing in a line down it.

DC John Swallow, leading the investigation, said: "We are very keen to speak to the two men in the white van and also the woman driving the green Vauxhall Corsa.

"The victim she was left shaken by the incident, which took place in the middle of the day in a busy area. We would also like to hear from anyone else in the area who may have seen what happened."

If you have any information about the incident, please contact DC John Swallow on 0845 8 505 505 or Crimestoppers anonymously on 0800 555 111.

Melissa chases her modelling dream

A WOMAN from Milton Keynes has made the final 50 for a Great Britain beauty contest.

Melissa Frayne, 21, from Grange Farm, was one of 300 applicants looking for a chance at stardom at the Miss Photogenic Great Britain 2011 and has made it down to the final cut.

The competition has no height, weight or clothes size restrictions in a bid to encourage women to 'feel good' about themselves.

Melissa gave up work last year following the death of her brother-in-law Neil Gauntlett, who was a guitarist in the band Joe Brown and the Bruvvers.

Since leaving her job in a local jewellery stall Melissa has helped her sister Sally Gauntlett raise her daughter Layla, 4, and Harley, 10, but now she is looking to chase her dream of becoming a model.

She said: "I saw the competition on the internet and entered last year but didn't make it through, so I tried again this year and I was in Marks and Spencer when I got the call to say I was in the final.

"I'm absolutely thrilled, I love modelling it is something I have always wanted to do. For the past six years I have taken part in catwalks and modelled for boutiques in Milton Keynes.

"It sounds like a really good pageant to be in. There's no restrictions so it's fair to everyone.

"I don't like the idea of everyone being a size 0, I'm a size 10-12 which is healthy and this competition shows you don't have to starve yourself to succeed in this industry."

Lucy Brassington, director and founder of Miss Photogenic Great Britain said: "It is important that we don't look at the size, weight and height because women are not numbers. That's the key thing about this competition I want women out there to feel good about themselves.

"I'm delighted Melissa applied and has made it down to the final 50 - it is a fiercely competitive industry but I want this to be fun and rewarding for her."

Melissa will find out whether she has what it takes to be crowned the Miss Photogenic Great Britain Queen when the final is held at Epsom Racecourse in October.

Burnt-out play bus is back on the road

A PLAY bus that was devastated by fire has been restored to its former glory.

The Willen-based Kiddies Playbus, a double decker bus converted into an area for three to eight-year-olds, is back on the road after last year's set back.

In April 2009 an unexplained fire left the bus gutted, and three years of work by businesswoman Bisola Orimalade in tatters.

Ms Orimalade said: "I was devastated. I had spent three years planning the business and it had only been going for a few months.

"Then there was a fire at a nearby farm. It spread to the bus. We were told it was a freak accident.

"It has taken a year to get back on our feet. Kids are really excited. Parents love it too."

Say 'no' to door-knockers and call Trading Standards

BEWARE of rogue traders – that is the message from police and trading standards officers following an incident involving a Wavendon resident.

The homeowner in Walton Road paid workmen more than £5,000 to carry out work on his roof at the end of February, but the workmen never returned and the work has not been completed.

Crime reduction advisor for Thames Valley Police, Ed Allington, said: "I would advise residents to always check, that the companies they are considering are legitimate before they even consider getting a quote for work to be carried out on their property

"Recommendations from friends or family are always a good place to start, but to be sure residents are advised to check Milton Keynes Council's Trading Standards 'buy with confidence' scheme.

"All businesses with the scheme are vetted and approved by Trading Standards."

Karen Ford, Trading Standards manager said: "Never agree to work following a cold call because you are not giving yourself the opportunity to think.

"Good, honest and reputable traders do not have time to go door-knocking, so if you are cold called, politely tell them to leave, then tell Trading Standards."

■ For further information or advice on rogue traders, visit www.milton-keynes.gov.uk/trading-standards or call Consumer Direct on 08454 04 05 06.

Make every Friday your fruit day

FRIDAYS are fruit days according to NHS Milton Keynes.

In a bid to prevent cancer, the authority has named the day Fruity Friday as part of the annual campaign by the World Cancer Research Fund.

A third of people in the UK will develop cancer at some point in their lives and around a third of the most common cancers can be prevented by eating and exercise.

In fact, NHS Milton Keynes is urging people to eat six rather than five portions a day.

Zoe Firth, community food worker at NHS Milton Keynes, said: "Eating fruit and vegetables doesn't have to be boring as there are so many different types.

"Aim to eat ones of different colours to get the most health benefits. Variety is the spice of life and it's important to enjoy your food."

Man jailed after search revealed drugs

A NEWPORT Pagnell man has been jailed for three years for possessing Class A drugs with intent to supply.

Sean Gillings, aged 21, from Hopton Grove, was sentenced at Huntington Crown Court on May 13 after being found guilty at his trial on April 7.

Gillings was arrested in May 2009 after numerous wraps of cocaine and drugs paraphernalia were seized by police during a house search, in connection with an unrelated offence.

DS Mark Smyth, who led the investigation said: "We hope this sends out a strong message to anyone in Milton Keynes involved in dealing drugs. If you're found dealing Class A drugs, you can expect to go to prison for a substantial amount of time. Police and the courts recognise that a large amount of crime is fuelled by drugs and if we get information to say someone is dealing drugs in MK they can expect an early morning wake up call from us very soon."

MK Dons in drive to recruit foster carers

DO you have the skills to foster a child or young person?

MK Dons striker Aaron Wilbraham and community ambassador Paul Mitchell have joined local foster carers to throw their support behind a council campaign to recruit more foster carers in Milton Keynes.

The campaign coincides with National Foster Care Fortnight which runs until May 30.

'Do you have the skills to foster a child or young person?' is the question being posed during the fortnight and the council's Fostering Service has arranged two informal drop-in evenings for anyone interested in finding out more.

The events take place on Thursday, May 20 at Jurys Inn, Midsummer Boulevard, and Wednesday, May 26 at Sycamore Hall, Drayton Road, Bletchley. Members of the fostering team will be on hand to answer questions between 6-8pm. Anyone is welcome, advance booking not required.

Fostering manager at the council, Jane Partridge, said: "We think there are many more people living in Milton Keynes who are perhaps thinking about fostering but are a bit unsure on taking the next step. I encourage anyone who thinks they might have the skills needed to support children and young people to come to one of our events or give us a call."

Aaron added: "It is really important to me that every child or young person in Milton Keynes is given all the opportunities possible to help them achieve their potential in life. For various reasons, not all children are able to get that support from their families, which is why foster carers play such an important role."

■ If you are not able to go along to one of the drop in sessions you can call the Fostering Team on 01908 253206 or email them at dutydesk@milton-keynes.gov.uk

Charts, posters and stickers promote walking to school

CHILDREN right across Milton Keynes will be striding out as they take part in National Walk to School Week.

The event runs until May 21.

This year, the theme is 'Walk Your Way' which aims to encourage parents and children to get to know their local neighbourhood better by exploring it on foot.

In addition to learning more about their local environment, children will learn road safety skills and keep active.

Milton Keynes Council's road safety team is supporting Walk to School Week by sending wall charts, posters, leaflets and stickers to over 450 primary school classes and visiting local schools assemblies.

National charity Living Streets runs the highly successful Walk to School campaign, which encourages over two million children, parents and teachers to leave their cars at home and walk to school.

Over the past two decades, the number of children who walk to school has dropped from 62 per cent to 48 per cent, with an enormous 43 per cent being driven to school in cars despite the majority of primary school pupils live within a 20 minute walk of their school.

Jessica Smith, school travel plan adviser for Milton Keynes Council, said: "During Walk to School Week this year, we are asking parents and children to give it a go and to 'Walk Your Way' to school.

"Walking can be beneficial to children in a number of ways, helping them learn vital road safety skills, to interact with their local environment and to become 'streetwise' and develop independence."

Wolverton Park development: Preserving the history and heritage of the former railway works site

Transformed Train Shed a winner

A PIECE of restored history has picked up a national award.

More than 100 guests from the local community and rail industry attended the unveiling of a prestigious National Railway Heritage Award, won by Places for People, for the outstanding restoration work that has transformed the Grade II listed Royal Train Shed at Wolverton, into a development of luxury homes.

The judges said: 'In selecting Wolverton Park as the winner, the judges were hugely impressed by the quality of the restoration work covering the original structure as well as by the sympathetic and successful conversion of the interior of the shed into attractive housing units. The environmentally-sensitive work in the restoration of the disused Royal Train Shed and the careful retention of many of the building's original engineering features also drew much praise.'

Outgoing Mayor of Milton Keynes, Cllr Euan Henderson officially unveiled the plaque

David Cowans from Places for People said: "We are thrilled to have won this award for our Wolverton Park development and to be recognised in the sector as a leading player in developing and delivering a successful mixed use community.

"Developing a site that has such historical and emotive significance was both extremely complex and challenging. We needed to design and construct a range of homes suitable for 21st century living, but which were sympathetic to, and preserved the history and heritage of the former railway works site."

New mum Gail to run in MK Half Marathon

RETIRED badminton star Gail Emms has thrown her support behind this year's Milton Keynes Half Marathon.

The annual running event raises money for the NSPCC and is now in it's 11th year in MK.

Emms, who won gold in the World Championships and silver in the 2004 Olympics, is supporting the cause which helps raise vital funds for children, including services like ChildLine.

From April 2009-March 2010 ChildLine received in the region of 900 landline calls from the Milton Keynes area.

However, landline and pay-phone calls represent only 22 per cent of the calls Childline receives.

Emms, currently living in Middleton, said: "As a new mum I am happy to be able to support the NSPCC and this local event.

"By taking part in the half marathon you can help the NSPCC reach out to children whose lives have been devastated by abuse – each pound raised helps them work with children to build better, brighter futures."

NSPCC fundraising manager Sally Phipps added: "We are thrilled that Gail is able to lend her support and hope that people are encouraged to take part and do their bit to help."

Former world badminton champion and Olympic silver medal-ist Gail Emms is supporting the NSPCC in the MK Half Marathon

Emms, who ran last year's London Marathon, will be cheering for the runners on Sunday, July 18, when she starts the race at Bury Lawn School in Stantonbury.

Each year around 2000 people take part in the run, and since its inception in 1999 the event has raised over £300,000 for the NSPCC.

Individual and team entries are being welcomed from all over the UK and everyone who crosses the finish line will receive a NSPCC Milton Keynes Half Marathon medal.

MK NEWS is once again the media sponsor for the event.

■ For more information on the Half Marathon log on to www.mkhalfmarathon.org.uk or call the NSPCC Appeals team on 01908 328060.

MK Dons first team and Si5 founder Bob Richardson at the opening of the Si5 Spy Missions adventure centre

Shh – Spy centre secrets are revealed in Winterhill

A SECRET centre for spies has opened to the public.

Adults and children can now discover their inner undercover agent at the Si5 Spy Missions adventure centre in Winterhill.

The centre, which opened on Saturday, after a special preview day for everyone from the city's Mayor to the MK Dons football team.

Best described as a cross between Crystal Maze and Mission Impossible, Si5 Spy Missions promises over an hour of adrenalin-fuelled, mind racing fun, great for team building as well as kids parties and stag and hens.

The missions include Operation Silent Water, Operation Devilfish, Operation Black Rain and Operation Falling Star.

Founder Bob Richardson was among the special agents at the preview day taking the covert-ops guided missions, involving a series of Krypton Factor-esque mental and physical challenges.

Guests included The Milton Keynes Play Rangers, a lottery funded Government group.

Mr Richardson said: "It was great to have guests trying out the spy experiences and feedback was fantastic.

"I can't wait to have customers in enjoying themselves and with six missions for kids and a further six for adults and teens, there's something to suit anyone who's up for the challenge of using lateral and logical thinking, observational skills and physical ability."

Explorer Scouts hard at work on hospital garden

SCOUTS have been dig, dig, digging to do their best to help MK Hospital.

Members of the Milton Keynes Great Ouse Explorer Scouts have designed and are building a garden for the physiotherapy department at the city's hospital.

The project has been supported by the hospital-based charity MK Arts for Health.

The hard landscaping is funded by MK Youth Bank and the garden is being built under supervision of adult leaders. The project started in September 2009 with a proposed finish date of October 2010.

The work completed so far has been clearing trees, erecting fences, laying a patio, installing water tanks, building a gazebo, cutting paths and creating a raised planting area.

Currently the scouts are working on laying edging stones, finish paths, cutting and laying stone, erecting a circular seating area, decking and sail structure, planting and garden furniture.

Members of the Milton Keynes Great Ouse Explorer Scouts working on the garden at Milton Keynes Hospital

Organiser Jeff Williams said: "This is a fantastic project for our Explorer Scouts to get involved with and a great help to the MK Hospital and the local communities."

Jeff has entered the team in the ihelp project, organised by Bletchley Freemasons.

Mike Stimson, assistant head of Bletchley Freemasons, said: "This is a tangible example of how ordinary people can help their own communities.

"Freemasonry is about friendship, decency, and charity, so we are really interested in how this project develops, because it reflects our values.

"Community service is at the heart of freemasonry, which is the third biggest charity donor in the country."

The ihelp project is open to youngsters throughout Bucks.

Future Fit course student Samuel Aninfeg helps pack bags for a customer at Tesco

College kids pack bags for charity

TEENAGERS from Milton Keynes College have given up their free time to help pack bags at a local supermarket raising money for visually impaired children in the process.

The four young people were taking part in the Future Fit Course run by Milton Keynes College giving participants the opportunity to gain work place skills that will help them into employment.

The teenagers spent the whole day helping young mums, elderly people and everyone in between to pack their bags.

The people they were helping were really happy to give a few pence for the pleasure of having someone else do the packing for them.

The money will be donated to Visually Impaired Children Taking Action (VICTA), a Milton Keynes-based charity who support blind and partially sighted children.

The idea of giving to VICTA came from Luke Tappenden, 17, a member of the course run by Graham Smith.

Luke said: "My brother is blind and I know how much help charities like VICTA provide to families so I am really happy to help."

VICTA's director Tracie Tappenden went to meet the youngsters and thank them for their hard work.

She said: These young people are an inspiration, they have given up their day to help raise money to support blind and partially sighted kids and we are very grateful for their dedication".

The group has also raised money for VICTA through a sponsored row at the Virgin Gym. There will be a formal presentation of the funds raised next week.

Moo helps hospice meet running costs

CARING locals have come to the rescue of a hospice whose funds were dwindling.

Willen Hospice, which cares for around 400 terminally ill patients each year, announced its financial woes last year.

It blamed a major shortfall in its income – running costs are £3million each year – on the recession.

But the charity has managed to meet its costs, thanks to individuals, organisations and businesses providing much needed support.

Paul Hinson, hospice chief executive, said: "Income improved steadily over the course of the year, this was particularly encouraging in general donations, reflecting the generosity of our supporters to whom we are extremely grateful.

"In addition we have worked hard to keep a tight reign on expenditure.

"This combination enabled us to raise the full amount we needed to cover our running costs."

One new event in the hospice's fund-raising calendar, organised to help counteract the situation, was the MK Midnight Moo night walk which raised more than £100,000.

The Hospice's ten charity shops also exceeded expectation and had a good trading year.

Mr Hinson added: "It is our 30th anniversary on January 1 next year and we are already working on some exciting new ideas to help galvanise and further increase public support around this celebration."

■ For further information about how you can support the Hospice please call 01908 663636 or visit www.willen-hospice.org.uk

Fund-raising events, including the Midnight Moo, and cash from its charity shops helped Willen Hospice meet its running costs despite the recession

FIRE WITH FIRE
Scissor Sisters
I'VE always maintained that if you're going to do a comeback single, it needs to be a proper statement of intent, something so attention-grabbing that it can knock the listener flat on his or her backside with the sheer 'that was well worth the wait'-iness of it all.
This, the first Scissor Sisters single in, oh, it must be years, is a slow-building 80s-tinged pop anthem that, had it actually been made in the 1980s, would only have been deemed good enough to be an album track or (if it was really unlucky) a B-side.
A single? No chance.
So, what have we got here? A Westlife-esque slow start with pianos and synths splashed all over it, followed by the song coming to life... well, it threatens to turn into a Snow Patrol song for a while, so 'coming to life' is possibly being a tad generous.
And then it really kicks into gear and all of a sudden I'm not hearing the Scissor Sisters, I'm hearing Owl City. What the hell? There's your problem right there, this is a Scissor Sisters single that doesn't sound like the Scissor Sisters.
Say what you like about their earlier stuff, and heaven knows I have, but at least you knew who it was as soon as you heard the first few bars.
This? Well, it could be any number of bands.
It's radio-friendly, it's pleasant, but it's nothing special.
In other words, not worth the wait.

IT'S ENGLAND TIME
Chico
DO you remember It's Chico Time? God, that was awful, wasn't it?
Cat owners – if you left the CD in the garden, did your pet try to bury it? Just wondering.
Well, guess what Chico's done here. Go on, have a go. Are you thinking 'The tune's exactly the same as it was in 2006, but the lyrics have been altered in a monumentally cack-handed manner that makes the singer of this very unofficial World Cup song sound like he knows absolutely nothing about football whatsoever?'
You are? Well done you, have a biscuit.
To be fair, they've also tacked on some fake match commentary from Chico, but to suggest he's no Chris 'Unbelievable, Jeff' Kamara is putting it mildly.
On the bright side, all the proceeds go to charity, but on the downside, that seems to suggest that someone actually thought that people would buy this monstrosity.

THE HISTORY BOYS

Monday, May 17-22

ONE of the great plays of the decade written by Alan Bennett.

The History Boys is set in a school in the North of England where a boisterous bunch of bright, funny sixth form boys are attempting to gain entrance to Oxford and Cambridge whilst fending off the distractions of sport and sex. Staffroom battles and the anarchy of adolescence provide a rich vein of comedy.

ME, MARLEY & I

Sunday, May 23

YAW Asiyama is a Milton Keynes-based artist, storyteller, chef, painter, poet and playwright.

The father of four has been in the arts circuit for as long as he has lived in MK with credits including A Slave's Story and What Black Women Want which played to a full house at Milton Keynes Theatre to great acclaim last year.

Yaw's latest work bought to stage in the form of Me Marley and I a vivid true story of great friendship, courage and sacrifice.

Me Marley and I is the true life account of a younger Yaw.

Told to the backdrop of live reggae music, this is a story of brutal survival, true love and friendship during an African military revolution. Yaw said: "These were the times I grew up in, a life of privilege that was a trigger finger away from obliteration.

"I was brought up too well not to question the wrongs that surrounded me. However this was not a positive survival trait in angry times. Teenagers with opinions were an endangered species. My only saving grace in those times was the wisdom of my grandmother, the power of first love and my total immersion into Marley's Music. Everything's Gonna Be alright."

This bitter sweet portrait of survival brings to life a different time in a different culture, gloriously funny and warm, this true story jolts sharply into focus the horror of living through an African revolution.

MK BUSINESS

Nigel Brittle, goup chief executive and Christopher Johnston, majority sareholder, from Personal Group with the MK Dons Ladies at Personal Group HQ in Central Milton Keynes.

Up close and Personal

MK Dons and MK Dons Sport and Education Trust have extended their partnership with employee benefit solutions and financial services specialists Personal Group.

In a continuation of their role as official club partner, Personal Group will again commit their support to a number of club and SET initiatives, most notably as the title partner for the development of girls and women's football.

MK Dons chairman Pete Winkelman said: "Since the birth of our relationship last July, Personal Group – a Milton Keynes company of national repute – has been among our biggest supporters and most valued partners.

"Personal Group shares our passion and commitment towards enriching the local community through the power of football and, together with the SET, we are proud to secure the continuation of our partnership."

Nigel Brittle, group chief executive for Personal Group, said: "We are delighted to continue our involvement with MK Dons. We look for ways to support the local community and businesses.

"By continuing our partnership with MK Dons we are investing in the local community and supporting some of the fantastic work SET is engaged in."

As part of the agreement, Personal Group will continue its official sponsorship of both the club's matchday magazine and its official website.

Its logo will also adorn the shirts of the MK Dons Ladies – a team officially launched in the South East Combination for the 2009/10 season with Personal Group's support.

Personal Group's support will also benefit the MK Dons Ladies through the introduction of a reserve team, an increased catchment area for women's trials and ongoing support for the Girls' Centre of Excellence.

John Cove, chief executive for the MK Dons Sport and Education Trust, said: "With the growing popularity of MK Dons Ladies FC and the success of the Centre of Excellence, more and more girls are participating in sport in MK and the surrounding areas.

"This will be shown as the SET rolls out 'Generation Female Football' a project aimed at engaging hundreds of new participants in our expansion areas. We will be starting this by putting some of the female staff from Personal Group through their paces over the summer in a master class."

Careers award first for school

OAKGROVE School has become the first in Milton Keynes to achieve the Investors in Careers Award for careers advice provided to students.

The award is a nationally recognised quality standard for careers education and guidance.

Oakgrove School achieved particular commendation for incorporating careers advice into the curriculum with initiatives such as requiring students of GCSE Humanities to examine the benefits of work experience.

Oakgrove students also benefit from lessons on 'The Future of Work' and 'The Labour Market' as part of their Values and Ethics curriculum, whilst other areas of study include a focus on economic wellbeing and personal development.

'Shuffle days', particularly popular with students, offer activities which emphasise the importance of the impact of education on student's future lives.

Jane Sheard, Head of Careers and Work Experience at Oakgrove School, said: "We're delighted that our careers services have achieved public recognition and have been working hard to ensure that students are given the opportunity to learn important life skills to help them focus on where they want to be in the future. We've had positive feedback from those taking part in this area of the curriculum and students have clearly enjoyed this approach."

The panel of assessors included representatives from Milton Keynes Council and Prospects Ltd, one of the UK's leading providers of education, guidance, employment and training services, who provide Connexions services for Milton Keynes Council.

Chris Denyer, the Connexions:MK operations manager for Prospects, added, "Oakgrove School impressed the panel by demonstrating a 'whole school commitment' to ensuring that their students are given the skills to make informed choices about the career and training for them."

The school is also looking to achieve the new Milton Keynes Quality Award in Careers Education, Information, Advice and Guidance which was launched in February. They are aiming to complete this award in 2010.

For information about the Investors in Careers Award, or about the new Milton Keynes-based Quality Award in Careers Education, Information, Advice and Guidance, please contact Chris Denyer at Connexions:MK on 01908 398300 or email connexionsmk@prospects.co.uk

THE DEFINITIVE GUIDE TO YOUR NEXT HOME IN AND AROUND MILTON KEYNES

MKNEWS HomesNow©

Wicken Barn, Old Haversham

Sympathetically converted in 2005 by Bastion Homes, Wicken Barn has been thoughtfully designed in a layout suiting the modern family.

It includes a contemporary kitchen, bathrooms and cloakroom, a vast expanse of double glazed, in the main full height, windows, high ceilings in the majority of the accommodation.

There is a high technical specification sound system in primary reception rooms and bedrooms and under floor heating throughout the ground floor.

The current owners have made one of the wings of the ground floor into a totally self-contained annexe, which also enjoys a private courtyard and small garden.

There are electric security gates to the front of the property, off road parking for at least eight family cars and integral double garage.

The property enjoys a south facing garden area, beautiful walks just a stone's throw away through conservation lakes and grounds in a rural location, yet is less than ten minutes from the centre of Milton Keynes, combining the benefit of country living with the convenience of a major new town close by.

Get your brand closer to people's lives

No other medium is as close to people's hearts as Regional Press. Consumers consider it an integral part of their community. The effectiveness of regional press advertising in driving sales comes down to the simple fact that people prefer to do most of their spending close to where they live.
Consumers' Choice V, a national consumer survey by TNS Media, found that regional press advertising is the most frequently acted upon, with 61% of people responding to it†.
No wonder brands enjoy a closer relationship with consumers when advertised in this, the most trusted and effective medium of all.

Win a pair of tickets to see the Black Stars

SOME of the stars of this summer's World Cup are coming to Milton Keynes on June 5, and MK NEWS have teamed up with MK Dons to give you the chance to see them in action.

African superstars Ghana face Latvia at stadiummk in their final warm-up game before travelling to the tournament in South Africa and we've got four pairs of tickets to give away to our readers.

The likes of Chelsea superstar Michael Essien, Fulham Europa League hero John Paintsil and Inter Milan winger Sulley Muntari will be among those to grace the turf at the home of MK Dons, as Milton Keynes plays host to its inaugural senior international.

The Black Stars, four-time African Cup of Nations winners and the only African side to progress to the knock-out stages of the 2006 tournament, will then head to their World Cup base-camp in Pretoria ahead of Group D matches against Germany, Australia and Serbia.

It should be a carnival atmosphere at stadiummk and, with Milton Keynes already confirmed as a Candidate Host City in England's 2018 World Cup bid, a possible preview of things to come should England be awarded in the tournament later this year.

Tickets for the game are currently available from the MK Dons Box Office at stadiummk and online at mkdons.com, but MK NEWS has four pairs of tickets to give away so you could be there by answering the simple question below:

Ghana defender John Paintsil plays for which English Premier League club?

Send your answers by email to competitions@mk-news.co.uk.

Please include your name, address and daytime telephone number.

First out of the hat wins. Editor's decision is final. Deadline for entries is June, 1.

Caldecotte ready to host first regatta

CROWDS are expected to line the shore of Caldecotte Lake as Milton Keynes Rowing Club (MKRC) hosts the first annual Milton Keynes Regatta on Saturday.

Crews from regional rowing centres including Northampton, Oundle and Isle of Ely will compete in the event which has gained in spectator popularity over the past decade thanks to performances in the Olympics by household names like Steve Redgrave.

The schedule includes male and female crews, from juniors through to seniors, racing in single sculls, pairs, fours and through to the mighty swept oar eights.

"Caldecotte Lake is such a great place for a regatta," said Rebecca Trouse MKRC chairman, "It's great for the crews and the public get a great unobstructed view of finishing stretch. With a course stretching length of the south lake, a distance of 500 metres, there's bound to be excitement as the boats race towards the spectator area near the boat house."

The rowing regatta is free to watch and begins at 10am.

Caldecotte Lake is managed by the Milton Keynes Parks Trust and the event is financed by the support of local businesses.

New Dons boss busy

BY SIMONE CORGAN

simone.corgan@mk-news.co.uk

NEW MK Dons boss Karl Robinson has had a busy first week in charge – bringing in two players and waving goodbye to four.

Dundee defender Gary Mackenzie signed a two-year deal just days after the club confirmed the popular decision to snap up keeper David Martin, who left the Dons in 2006 for Liverpool, on a free transfer.

Twentyfour-year-old Mackenzie is a player well known to first team coach Alex Rae who signed the centre-back for Dundee in 2006 and has also returned to Dens Park this season to keep tabs on the player.

Mackenzie is looking forward to a new challenge after 110 appearances for Dundee, he said: "Playing for an English club was something I'd always wanted to do and I feel the time is right in my career to take that step.

"I know Alex Rae very well from his time at Dundee and having spoken to him about the ambition at MK Dons and seen the place for myself, I know this will be a good move for me.

"I enjoyed my time at Dundee but it's time for a new challenge and I'm looking forward to that with Milton Keynes Dons."

Another man thrilled to be at the Dons is Martin.

Now 24-years-old with experience at a Premier League club, as well as loan spells at Accrington Stanley, Leicester, Tranmere and Leeds, he feels he returning as a better goalkeeper and cannot wait to get started.

Martin said: "I've signed for three years so I'm looking to move back into Milton Keynes because I love the area and I'm really looking forward it starting. I came down and met Karl and I've been really impressed with his ambitions. For a young manager, you can tell he's got a bright future.

"It's the first pre-season I've genuinely looked forward to in a long time, I can't wait for it to start. I'll make sure I keep fit through the summer and hopefully come back raring to go."

Meanwhile, Darren Powell, Sol Davis, Lewis Gobern and David King have all been released and are free agents from June, 1.

Centre-back Powell and winger Gobern made 27 and 26 appearances respectively last season, while Davis was limited to 16.

Academy product King, who signed professional terms in 2009, spent time on loan with non-league outfit Forest Green Rovers.

However, Challow could not dismiss them and Bletchley's 229-8 was enough to earn them some of the points.

Red Bull make a splash

BY SIMONE CORGAN
simone.corgan@mk-news.co.uk

RED Bull Racing made a splash at the Monaco Grand Prix as a superb one-two rocketed them to the top of the Drivers' and Constructors' Championships.

Mark Webber is now in pole position for the world championship after winning his second successive race

The Aussie once again led from the start to the chequered to flag at the end, holding off his team mate Sebastian Vettel who took second place after easing past Robert Kubica on the first corner.

Webber guided his Red Bull beyond several incidents including a collision between Jarno Trulli and Karun Chandhok which happened in front of the race leader just four laps from the end.

Webber, who had not won a race until July last year, has now collected 50 points in two races and is level on points with Vettel in the Drivers' Championship but leads the standings with more race wins, he said: "It's a special day, the greatest day of my life I suppose.

"To join Ayrton Senna and the likes round here is a very special thing.

"A one-two finish for the team here is such a feather in their cap, it's incredible. The safety cars weren't a great situation to have you do all the hard work, get away and risk some pretty quick lap times to increase the gap and then you have a safety car which neutralises it and all the fast guys are back on your wheel again.

"It's very difficult when it's like that, but that's part of the driver's role to stay composed and get the job done. To get 50 points from the last two races is awesome, but there is a long, long way still to go. We've got so many different conditions and tracks coming up there are many exciting times to come, I'm looking forward to it."

At the beginning of the season Formula One supremo Bernie Ecclestone tipped Vettel to take Jenson Button's championship crown, however, he has taken a back seat to Webber.

In fact Vettel would have thought after overtaking Kubica that first place from Webber was there for the taking, but he struggled to chase his team mate.

Vettel said: "That was crucial to finishing second. I couldn't keep up with Mark and we need to see why that was.

"It was difficult, especially at the beginning and after all the restarts. Later on I finally felt I had more grip and wasn't too far off Mark's pace, but by then he was already down the road.

"There was no point trying to catch him, as overtaking is so difficult here.

"Robert was pushing quite hard and it was quite difficult to get away from him at the restarts.

"I was going sideways rather than straight at times. But, I'm happy. I think we couldn't have done better today and we take away good points, which counts for a lot."

After achieving the best result possible at the sport's most glamorous location the team from Milton Keynes celebrated with a party in a Red Bull branded swimming pool.

Team principal Christian Horner, added: "A tremendous result for the team I think Mark Webber's had the week of his life. To win two GPs in a row including the Monaco GP, which is probably the most prestigious on the calendar, is a very proud day for the whole of Red Bull Racing.

"And we didn't only win Monaco, but finished first and second so it's a great day for the team.

"It's a great result and testimony to all the work that goes on behind the scenes, which goes to make results like today's possible."

SureSlim®
LIFESTYLE & WELLNESS CLINIC

As seen on: this morning

It's not you. It's your metabolism!

WOW!
Look at me now!

Wow, I am so impressed at how easy it really was to lose my weight with SureSlim.

I started at 16st 13lb – I had reached crisis point. The size 22/24 clothes were starting to get tight and this wasn't good news. Having medical problems including Multiple Sclerosis and IBS meant losing weight was previously a battle. I had tried most things but never found something I could stick to.

I had seen with my own eyes other people that had joined SureSlim and achieved great things. I knew this was the path I was going to have to take.

I was scared and worried at how things would have to change but after my initial visit I felt confident that with the support of my consultant I would give it my best shot.

My plan arrived and with trepidation I embarked on my new quest. My new life!

Within a few months my cholesterol was completely normal but the benefit was really to the IBS. I no longer need to take the medication for this as the plan seems to have sorted it out – telling me that it's the right food going in my body.

It didn't take long for people to start noticing that I was losing weight and this of course made me feel fantastic. My willpower was definitely encouraged by the fact people were commenting but also that the weight was coming off at a super but sensible rate.

I reached goal after 9½ months on SureSlim meaning I had lost 7½ stone. It's truly amazing.

I am a size 10 now which I didn't think was possible. I know when I go into a shop I can try clothes on confidently. No need to hide the tag!

I've been able to keep the weight off with the help of my lifestyle plan and I plan on keeping it that way – I feel so comfortable with the new me. My life has changed for the better. My family are proud of me and my achievements. Most importantly I love the fact I feel better about myself. I now have the key to manage my weight for the rest of my life.

Your SureSlim eating plan will include:

- Comprehensive blood tests
- Doctor's analysis & nutritional advice
- Personalised programmes for rapid and permanent weight loss
- Tailored to your food preferences and lifestyle using normal everyday foods
- Private one on one support consultations!
